

presents

Ya'akobi and Leidental

by Hanoch Levin

Translated by Shir Freibach

for 5 nights only

Director	Ariella Eshed
Designer	Martina von Holn
Musical Director	Tsivi Sharett
Composers	Tsivi Sharett, Alex Kagan
Producer	Louise Harris
Stage Manager	Jenny Newell
Cast	Mark Fleischmann, Wanda Opalinska, Ian Rixon

In a cabaret-style, Ya'akobi and Leidental takes a comic and at times grotesque look at the love triangle between two men and one woman, all desperately trying to add meaning to their lives.

Hanoch Levin was a major creative force in the development of Israeli theatre. Levin's unique style has become an enormous source of inspiration for Israeli dramatists and his work continues to be performed to great acclaim all over the world.

Tik-sho-ret was established by Ariella Eshed in 2004 to give a platform to Jewish and Israeli Theatre in the UK and to promote cultural exchange through collaborations around themes of communication and co-existence.

Leeds International Jewish Performing Arts Festival 3,4 Sept at 7 pm tickets £6
New End Theatre, London 17,18 September at 7.30 pm tickets £15/12 conc.
Soho Theatre Studio, London 19 Sept at 8 pm for tickets email info@tik-sho-ret.co.uk

To book tickets for Leeds please call 0113 224 3801

To book tickets for the New End Theatre please call 0870 033 2733

For more information please visit www.tik-sho-ret.co.uk or email info@tik-sho-ret.co.uk

The shows are kindly supported by The Institute of Israeli Drama

West London Synagogue